

NaughtOne

Strathclyde University
Case Study

Strathclyde University Glasgow, UK

The Strathclyde technology and innovation center (Tic) is a center for technological research located in Glasgow, Scotland. It forms part of the university of Strathclyde campus in the heart of the city.

Throughout this contemporary scheme NaughtOne furniture has been cleverly used to create and shape spaces within this architectural gem. Over-sized bespoke Trace tables make an impact in the cavernous atrium spaces.

Touch-down, break-out and agile spaces have been created with Lounge furniture such as our Hush sofas, Hush chairs and Hush Low chairs. The seamless use of timber is seen from the wall panelling to the oak bases on our Viv wood chairs.
